

Figure 4. Concentrations of arsenic in tissues of smallmouth bass collected from the South Fork Shenandoah River watershed in spring 2009 (modified from Blazer and others, 2010). Concentrations were measured in multiple tissues collected in March, April, and May; data are shown as mean \pm standard error.